

In the narration, the text is usually written with something like:

Unit 1 (U1) was traveling eastbound on Highway 9, lost control, crossed the middle line and hit Unit 2 (U2) that was traveling westbound. After I arrived at the scene, one occupant of U2 showed visible injuries. I called the EMS. The driver of U1 smelled alcohol and failed the field sobriety tests I administered. Another patrol car with a breathalyzer test was requested at the scene. The driver of U1 tested 0.15% BAC and was subsequently arrested.
